BS Acapulko is a stunning copperplate script font that embodies the elegance and formality of the 18th century while incorporating modern digital type design techniques. Designed by Arthur Schwarz, this formal script typeface draws inspiration from Charles Snell's drawing, "believer in simple and effective form." While traditional copperplate scripts are drawn with a pointed nib pen, BS Acapulko offers a more versatile and digitally refined approach, resulting in a legible and expressive script typeface that is both classic and contemporary.

This careful though not quiet, calligraphy-inspired typeface features a multitude of strong typographic details such as the terminals of s, v, w, sf and st ligatures, or even a, g, d, q unconnected strokes. The moderate slant of BS Acapulko's letterforms contributes to its soft and smooth curves, making it a refined script font that is both a pleasure to read and visually distinctive.

BS Acapulko is available in two styles: Script and Italic, offering stylistic variation suited for every design requiring an elegant script font.
